

Devotional: Day 6: I Need to Hear Your Voice

Author: Andrew

Lord I need to hear Your Voice.

I need to hear You clearly.

Lord I need to hear Your Voice.

I need to hear You clearly.

I need to hear the Word that will never return void, but when spoken, just is ... just is.

There are no 'ifs or buts' about it.

In the good and bad times I need to hear Your Word, the Word that will lift me up from the miry clay, just as in the beginning when You created man from the dust, Your Word brings life to my situation.

I need to hear You, hear Your Word: the Word that will water my circumstances, and bring forth the answer in the midst of what seems barren; in the midst of opposition, in the midst of negative words and in the midst of unbelief.

I need to hear Your Word: the Word like manna from heaven that sustains me, nourishes me and strengthens me when I am weak, so I may carry on.

I need to hear Your Word, the Word which is like a never-ending fountain revitalising me, renewing my mind and purifying my heart.

Lord I need to hear Your voice.

I need to hear You clearly.

Lord I need to hear Your voice.

I need to hear You clearly.

I need to hear the words on the heart of the Father, those that will change anyone forever upon hearing them; and those words which will turn a nation around—turning them from darkness to light.

I need to hear the Words, the Words which spoke destiny into me. I need to hear the Words, the Divine Inspiration You placed inside me. I need to hear Your Words describing who You have called me to be. I need to hear Your Word to find me.

I need to hear the Words, the Father's Words of encouragement when I feel like giving up, telling me, "It is alright My child; I am with you, keep going"

Lord I need to hear Your voice.

I need to hear You clearly.

Lord I need to hear Your voice.

I need to hear You clearly.

I need to hear the heart-beat of Your heart, as it beats for the lost and the down-trodden.
Let me hear Your voice so I may catch Your passion for the lost souls:
Let me hear Your voice as You mourn for the lost; those who turn their back on You; those who are in so much pain, without hope. Let me hear Your words of comfort, words of hope, words of life, so I may tell them of your goodness.

Let me hear Your Word, the Word which is like nectar to the bees. And just as honey is produced from its ingestion, so Your Word produces Faith, Life, Hope and results, as we ingest its sweetness.

Lord I need to hear You clearly, and not just today, but tomorrow and the day after and day after that. I need to hear You continually, so I can be effective in what You have called me to do.

Lord I need to hear Your voice.
I need to hear You clearly.
Lord I need to hear Your voice.
I need to hear You clearly.

Lord we need to hear Your voice in these times. This is the prayer which needs to be on our hearts:
We need to know God intimately, if we are going to affect the world around us.
We need to know the Maker of heaven and earth, before we can make a difference in this world.
We need to know the Kingdom of Heaven intimately, before we can affect the kingdom of darkness.
We need to know the Light, intimately before we can shed light on other people's darkness.
We need to know the Giver, before we can give.
And we need to Know the One who loves us first unconditionally, before we can offer unconditional love someone else.
We need to know the Truth, the Way, and the Life, before we know what life is.

In short we need to know God.
